Eddie was born on December 2, 1952 in Memphis, TN. He was a dairy farmer for most of his life. After retiring, he worked on the road crew through Desoto County, but could do just about anything. Some of the greatest memories that his children have with him are rebuilding things, such as car engines. Fishing was Eddie's passion and especially enjoyed noodling. He also loved to hunt when he was younger. Eddie had a great personality and there was never a dull moment. He was a dedicated husband, father and grandfather. Eddie was loved by many and will be truly missed.

Eddie is survived by his wife, Linda Kay Johnson; daughter, Nikki Wright

(Terry) of Olive Branch; son, Michael Johnson (Gale) of Olive Branch; granddaughters, Mackenzie Johnson of Olive Branch, Valerie Monday of Lewisburg; grandsons, David Wright (Devan) of Memphis, Austin Wright of Olive Branch, Dakota Monday of Lewisburg; son-in-law, Jon Monday of Lewisburg; and nephew, Billy Johnson.

Eddie was preceded in death by his parents, William Arthur and Mabel Elizabeth Johnson; daughter, Karen Louise Monday; sister, Anice Umberger; and brother, Robert William "Bob" Johnson.

When my mom passed away, we asked Eddie and his son Michael to be the pall bearers. They did not hesitate at all. Once we were at the grave site and all the sermons were said, all the pall bearers walked by me and my 4 sisters to give their condolences and shake our hands. We were crying and had napkins to wipe our faces except for Terri (the youngest). When Michael walked by, he kissed each of our hands until he got to Terri. He looked down at her hand and just shook his head (heck no). Eddie looked at me and just shook his head and all I could do was laugh. That helped our pain so much and we still talk about that to this day
