Glenn we're gonna miss you at The Ups Store in olive branch. It will never be the way it was with you around everyday. You were there and hugged my neck and thanked me for the copies we made for you and you had that smile and I wondered why you didn't come by this whole week and just so happens you left your mailbox key in the key hole of it and said I can't find my key, we both laughed joking about where it was. Somehow it was meant to be left there last week. We didn't have another one. We would all trade every key to every mailbox just to have you back. You are missed by the crew.
