“ So sorry for your lost. The last time I saw or spook to Jerry was approx. 50 years ago. So glad to know he had a wonderful life with 4 great children and many grandchildren. I have many great memories with Jerry and Roger. We rode horses together we would go to the barn everyday and spend the days riding and just having a good time. At the time we were hanging out together .Jerry father worked a VW and he would bring different VW cars home everyday. Jerry would let us drive the cars and we would just drive around and have a good time. So many memories Jerry was a wonderful friend so sorry we lost contract over the years. God bless you I know Jerry will be missed but he is in Gods hand now.

“ To Jerry's children, grandchildren and Uncle Rudy and the rest of the family. Jerry was always like a big brother to me. When he was around 6th or 7th grade he had a drum set in his room. When we would go over to visit we wanted to hear him beat the drums and Aunt Frances would always say, "Just keep your door shut" I guess we got a little noisy! Then one time when daddy had bought us a couple of horses and a Shetland pony for Alan, Roger and Jerry came over to give us pointers on how to ride them the right way. One of the horses was an Appaloosa and it was a tall horse and we were scared of him. Jerry got on the horse and rode it like a cowboy. He ran the horse to the end of the fenced in area and rode it back. When it was our turn, the horse still wanted to run, so we got scared and didn't want to ride him. I think daddy sold them because we were to chicken to learn how to ride the proper way! As Jerry got older and married, we loved seeing his kids and getting to chat with him at reunions. Just a few years back after I lost my husband and moved to Chicago for awhile, Jerry and I would keep in touch and he was always posting delicious looking dishes he was cooking. It always made me hungry for Southern food! I am sure gonna miss Jerry as I know you will too. Loved him very much. Rest in peace cousin Jerry! Debbie Jo Palmer

“ Jerry was an honest family man, a trusted employee, and a personal, faithful friend. His well earned reputation of dedicated hard work and enduring integrity will be remembered by all who knew him, and will be sorely missed. I will personally miss his warm smile and firm handshake, that over the years became a reassuring heartfelt hug. He never failed to ask about my children, and later grandchildren, while always taking the time to brag on his own. Time will only embolden the legacy he has left them... Rest well my friend and enjoy your reward.
