“ My Dad grew up looking up to Jo as a second mother especially after my grandmother (his mom passed away) My dad would call her on mother's day every year. I tried to do the same after my dad past but it only lasted a year or two which I now regret. She raised a Great Man in my Uncle Jim who I Love, Appreciate and Respect dearly

“ My funny memory of Mom was when we were at Vons grocery store in California Mom always had to use the bathroom wherever we went so in the bathroom we went while she was using the bathroom I sat on the sink and it fell out of the wall I will never forget the look on Moms face She came out of the bathroom stall and saw the sink and said we better get the hell out of here!

Rest in peace Jo. I didnt know her well but she was a nice lady. I know she had lots of beautiful pottery which she was so proud of. You could see it on her face when she talked about it.
