“ They say the good die young, I have so many memories of us, like in 3rd grade Mrs Ray whooping you and her pencil from behind her ear went in your arm, I bet the lead is still in your arm, or when Amanda was pregnant with Abby and we would go to the movie's, or when I was going through my divorce and you opened your home to me and my boy's, or when your parents would take us to the races. I could go on and on. I'm going to miss you big guy you had such a beautiful heart I am so thankful to be able to call you my friend, you were family to me. We just talked about when it's our turn to go, I didn't know that would have been our last talk together now whose going to send me those funny crazy reels and I promise not to put you on a shirt (inside joke). I love you John hope you and Justin are catching up while you hold that beautiful baby girl of yours. XOXO till we meet again my friend...

“ John was a great human being. He was kind and selfless. Always willing to help out someone in need even if he wasn't in the position to do so. It was nothing for him to give someone his last dollar if they needed something and wasn't able to get it themselves. Men like John come far and few between. He was a true friend, always there if you needed him. Heaven gained an angel and we lost a dear friend, one that can never be replaced.

John was my first nephew and he made me an aunt for the first time. He spent a lot of time with us when he was younger. I have so many memories of him I could write a book. He had a golden heart and I know I will see him again one day but until then I'm going to miss him like crazy.
