“ Joe was a truly great man in the most important thing - love of God and love of family and neighbor. I know he has gone straight to heaven after his amazing life full of giving to others. After daily mass, Joe would share his adventures, driving in Ohio with his shotgun so he could shoot rabbits or squirrels on the way to school. His love for Lou was always apparent, and his love for his children and grandchildren. They were constantly on his mind, and always in our prayers. Since I have horses, Joe would ask me for manure from the barn for his landscaping. I told him we didn't keep the horses in the barn, but he was free to come and go through the pasture to pick up whatever he wanted. He often kidded me that I really did need to keep them in the barn so it would be easy to pick up!! I love this picture of him, and he will be missed so much. God speed, Joe, and God bless the entire family he loved so well. My prayers are with you all.
