Mr. Coleman was born in Lafayette County, MS, on October 24, 1950. He was the second of six children, born to a family of sharecroppers. Mr. Coleman grew up chopping and picking cotton. He graduated Lafayette High School in 1968 and went on to further his education at Northwest Mississippi Community College in Senatobia, MS, before enrolling at The University of Mississippi. Mr. Coleman graduated from Ole Miss with a degree in pharmacy in 1973.

After graduation, Mr. Coleman worked as a pharmacist in Batesville, MS, then moved to Senatobia before opening his own pharmacy in Tunica, MS, in the 1970s. He raised his family in Tunica before moving back to Oxford in the early 1980s. Upon moving back, he purchased a building on South Lamar Avenue and opened Coleman's Healthmart Pharmacy, a business he owned for over 20 years, before selling to Super D Drugs.

Also during his time in Oxford, he was an avid farmer and enjoyed working with his cattle, something he took pride in for over 20 years. He raised Registered Angus Cattle. After selling his pharmacy, he opened Coleman Funeral Home with his son, Glenn, on Highway 7 North. After a few years, he went back to his true passion of working in a pharmacy in the Delta.

Mr. Coleman served as an Elder in the Oxford Church of Christ for 10 years. He also was a member of the Southside Church of Christ in Grenada, MS. To further his service, Mr. Coleman was a member of the Kairos Prison Ministry for over 8 years. With Kairos, he served as a volunteer on several weekend walks, since 2007. Mr. Coleman was also active in the "Second Saturday Prayer and Share" at the Mississippi State Penitentiary.

Mr. Coleman is survived by his daughters, Kristi (Rowe) Brookfield of Jackson, TN, and Keri Jo Finnie of Oxford; son, Glenn (Nichole) Coleman of Oxford; grandchildren, Kennedy Brookfield and Brad Brookfield of Jackson, Mary-Massey Perkins and Gage Perkins of Oxford, and Sarah-Kay Coleman of Oxford; former wife, Kay Coleman of Oxford; brothers, Ray (Shirley) Coleman of Oxford, John (Sandra) Coleman, Jr., of Southaven, MS, Tony (Barbara) Coleman of Oxford, and Sid (Vicki) Coleman of Oxford; sister, Mary (Bill) Freeman of Senatobia; aunts, Irene Pipkin of Hickory Flatt, MS, and Hilda Carlock of Nesbit, MS; uncle, Horace Coleman of Nesbit; and a host of nieces, nephews, and cousins.

Mr. Coleman was preceded in death by his parents, John Roland, Sr., and Juanita Coleman.

“ Thinking about Mr. Kenny, I remember when our daughter, Faith, was born. She had jaundice. He met Claude at the pharmacy on a Sunday & together they went upstairs & found a special Light that she had to lay under. He was our hero that day. I am thankful he was in our lives for a while. We learned many things from him. My heart aches for your family. You are in our prayers. — Jennifer Neal “ Kenny was a friend to our family. He, along with other elders at our church, worked with our son (Terry Leo James II) helping him in his journey to accept Christ. Kenny called me at work to tell me they were with Terry and he was ready to be Baptized. Me and my husband, Terry, met them at Oxford Church of Christ and Kenny baptized our son (6 days before he received a heart transplant). We'll always be grateful to Kenny for working so close with our son. Our prayers go out to all the Coleman family in their loss.
