

Lynn Davis Williamson

July 14, 1958 - April 15, 2026

Coleman Funeral Home of Oxford

Lynn Davis Williamson, 67, of Oxford, passed away on Wednesday, April 15, 2026, at her residence.

The family has elected not to host any services and will mourn her passing privately, leaning on one another for support.

She graced this world with her presence on July 14, 1958, in Indianola, Mississippi, as one of the six children born to the late JT Wallace Davis and Dorothy Wooten Davis.

Lynn's deep commitment to service showed during her years in the Batesville community. She volunteered at Tri Lake Hospital and comforted patients and their families. Her caring nature touched many lives. Her selfless work will be remembered by all who knew her.

Lynn was an enterprising and driven business owner. She ran Hot Tunes Music Store and Eureka Movie Theater, both cherished in Batesville. She skillfully revived old spaces, renovating theaters with creativity and vision. Lynn managed every detail herself, balanced her own books, and oversaw all business operations.

Lynn's passion for life reached beyond her work. She was an avid walker and enjoyed staying active every day. She loved to read. Her home was filled with books, reflecting her curiosity and joy for learning. Lynn found comfort and companionship in her cats and delighted in their presence. She kept herself busy, finding purpose in every moment and inspiring others as well.

Lynn Davis Williamson will be dearly missed by her family, friends, and the entire Batesville community. Her legacy of service, entrepreneurship, and zest for life will continue to inspire all who were fortunate enough to know her.

She leaves behind a loving family to continue walking down the path of life in her absence: her beloved son, Michael Williamson of Oxford, Mississippi; three siblings: Jean Whitaker of Greenville, Mississippi; Wally Davis and his wife Peggy of Indianola, Mississippi; Randy Davis and his wife Debbie of Indianola, Mississippi; and dearly loved host of nieces and nephews.

The loved ones who departed this life before her include her parents, JT Wallace Davis and Dorothy Wooten Davis, and her two siblings, Gail LeBlanc and Charles Davis.

The staff at Coleman Funeral Home of Oxford is honored to serve the family during this challenging season of life. Condolences may be expressed online on her Tribute wall at www.colemanfuneralhomeox.com.

“ I never met Lynn, but know her through her son, Michael. Through Michael, I have felt like I have known her for years. Michael, the man you are, the heart you have and the kindness you show to others will always be a testament to your mother and the person she was. There is no greater legacy than a child who became a wonderful adult. That is the part of me that I hope will live on long after I am gone, and as you continue to be the wonderful man you are, your mom legacy endures. Please let me know if I can do anything.

Ms. Lynn was a fun loving and kind person. I will always remember her from when she would come through the drive thru at the bank when I worked in Batesville in her fancy sports car. She tickled me because she said the car always got away from her but she loved driving it. I had the opportunity to meet and get to know not just her but her very kind son, Michael whom she loved and cherished dearly. Michael your mom was a beautiful person and I am going to miss seeing her beautiful smile. We love you and always here if you need anything!!

Love Marandia and family!
