“ I was blessed to have taught Matt in second grade at PDS. He was a wonderful student, but what I remember most about Matt is his kindness towards others. I cannot remember a day when Matt was anything but kind. He was a dream student who had a hunger for knowledge. I haven't seen handwriting as beautiful as his ever! I have enjoyed reading about Matt and seeing his photos after PDS. I am so happy to know he was the same kind and generous person as a man that he was as a boy. I am so very happy that he also chose to share his faith with others. Even though I didn't see Matt grow into the man he had become, I know I will one day see him in Heaven and we will catch up on the memories I missed. Please know that your family is in my thoughts and prayers. Matt was loved deeply and will be missed by many. I am so happy God put him in my second grade class. He made a difference then and changed the world for the best in the time he was given.

Today, 6-14-22 I learned that Dr. Lingle recently passed away. He was my PCP for a few years until he was re-assigned back to the hospital due to the severe staffing shortages as COVID worsened. As his patient I can honestly say he was always so kind, compassionate, and dedicated to his profession. He was always very thorough. I liked that. I always felt that he was really attentive during appointments because sometimes he would remember things we would laugh or talk about on previous appointments. I remember he let me know he was leaving the office but he went so far as to give me his personal and/or work cell phone number in case I ever needed anything. I don't know any doctor that does that. This made me feel very comfortable with him as my physician at that time. So I can attest to how dedicated he really was to his patients. The person I knew had a humble spirit. He was gentle and so soft spoken. Always professional. Since I learned of his passing he has crossed my mind on several occasions today. He was such a young and successful man. It is nice to read all of the comments describing him to be the kind gentleman he always presented himself as in the office. He was funny too. Sometimes when he would enter the room as soon as he saw it was me, he'd stick his head in the door and say, "Oh no. You got me again. Don't take me to jail." 😂. That let me know he had a great sense of humor as well. My prayers are with his family, friends, and coworkers during this time. May God comfort you all. Rest well, Dr. Lingle.
