“ I remember my first day at NMRC when I was placed inside the office with you, you gave me the best welcome with the biggest smile. Everyday you saw me you screamed “Heyyyy boo”. Im going to miss our FaceTimes, dinner/lunch dates, and movie nights. You were always there when I needed to vent, you would give the best advice and always make me feel better. If no one else knew how to make me smile and laugh you did. The days I were sad and did not want to be bothered you knew something was wrong without even asking. When I would miss a day from work you would text and call asking me why I'm not there and tell me that you missed me. You became one of my closest friends. I'm missing you so much. You were truly a gift from God.
I love you sweet Angel.

“ Medley, It was such an honor to call you a coworker/friend. On some of my darkest days, you without a clue, would make it so much better. You would come into our office, make us smile or laugh. I am going to miss that even more now. You were indeed an angel from above sent here on earth and now that you've returned back home to watch your loved ones from above, it breaks our hearts to say goodbye. I will miss the jokes, the laughs, the warm hugs, the talks, everything about you. I love you and so does your little baby, Au'Bri.

“ Medley was one of the most genuine women I met while at school at the University of Mississippi. She and I worked together at Southern Table, and it was always a pleasure to see her at work and around school.

She always had a smile on her face and was always willing to help anyone. We weren't very close, but she would go out of her way to help me out with anything I needed. I know she will be missed by her close family and friends if she affected an acquaintance in such a meaningful and long lasting way. There's no question in my mind that Medley is in a better place now, even though it hurts us to see her leave so soon.

God bless, and take comfort in knowing that she affected everyone with a contagious smile and a bright, energetic, and positive attitude.

Cheers, Medley. I know we'll meet again.
