She loved attending her church, Carriage Hills Baptist Church, and loved spending time with her children and grandchildren.

“ My mother Paula, was sweet, warm, and kind. I hope this page can honor her as a memorial to my exceptional mother. She was a homemaker in the true sense of the word. Mom only knows how to love someone, and the idea of hating someone was not in her DNA. My mom was precious and saw everyone with a halo around them. She tried to find the good in everyone.

When I was little, she loved to play with me, from making my dresses to making aluminum foil crowns for me and my dolls. My baby book was very detailed - it showed the care she gave with each moment.

She showed up at all my dance events, and I would see her in the crowd with a big smile. When I was in Italy, I looked forward to her letters. Sometimes I felt utterly alone, but her words made me feel so much better. I looked forward to celebrating milestone moments with my husband and children. We did the best we could when possible. Flashes of great memories will remain forever in my heart. I'm so thankful to have had such a wonderful visit in the end. She came to life having me, Eric, Ethan, Caleb, Aunt Judy, and Lewis around. We laughed like we used to do during our good times. My mother was loved so many, and she will be greatly missed.
