“ Bob and I where raised by Great Parents. We some times drove them crazy I'm certain.
He & I where so different. He liked staying in the house and I would rather play with the boys/girls in the neighborhood. I. remember when I brought my friend Marion to our home. All he would say "Where did you fine that skinny but funny girl" he teased every chance he could. Lord Be Hold he grow up and decided that my friend was Beautiful. “ I would like to extend my deepest condolences to Niederhauser’s family during this difficult time. “Saudade” is a Brazilian word whose deepest meaning is “the love that stays”. The missing feeling is because you love. I am positive he knew he was loved and that love is still present and alive. It hurts because the love remains within us (“the love stays”). May God comfort your hearts. Samia Dutra.

“ Sgt. was my friend from the first day that I met him. He would always want to read my name badge and then say "I don't want any activities"; however, he would attend an activity that had food. He loved to talk and talk we did. Sgt. had a dry wit about him that reminded me of my dad. I know that Sgt. is happy in Heaven with his family and is smiling down on us, while he watches the birds soar. He was loved and will be missed. Oorah! Sheila G. Edwards, Activity Director at Ave Maria Home.
