

Ronald Edwin Cooper

August 5, 2011

Coleman Funeral Home of Oxford

Ronald Edwin Cooper, 64, died in his sleep on August 5, 2011 in his home in Oxford, Mississippi.

Born on February 7, 1947, in Alexandria, Louisiana, he grew up in Pollock, Louisiana. After his father's early death, he took care of his mother, brother, and sister and, in spite of hardships, went on to earn a B.S. in Engineering from Louisiana Tech in 1970, serve in the United States Air Force, and work at Bell South Telephone till retiring in Oxford. He raised his son and five stepchildren with his second wife, and he was consistently a kind and generous man to all he met.

His parents Ralph and Della and his wife Barbara Lirette Cooper preceded him in death.

His memory lives on in his son Michael Edwin Cooper, two grandchildren of Okinawa Japan, his sister Vicki Cooper Lane, one nephew and two nieces of Little Rock, Arkansas, his brother, Nolan Ralph Cooper of Oxford, Mississippi, and the lucky few who were fortunate enough to know him well.

A small, private burial service will be conducted at Garden of Memories located at Coleman Funeral Home in Oxford, MS on Wednesday, August 10, 2011.

Online condolences may be left at www.colemanfuneralhome.com