My heart goes out to your family this weekend, Shelbi. I know there is going to be a huge void in their holidays without you. You are precious and I just hope everyone will be able to cherish all the wonderful memories that I am sure you were able to bless their lives with, my "Angel Flying Too Close to the Ground". I miss you so much. I am thankful I was able to be a part of your life, if only for a few weeks, my sweet girl ...

“ When Shelbi graduated, I was in seventh grade. She sent me her senior pictures on MySpace and I printed them all out and I put them in the clear thing on the front and back of my binder because I thought she was so beautiful and I wanted everyone to know how beautiful my cousin was. I printed them in the big size so I would change them out everyday because I couldn't pick just two. I never had the chance to tell her that I did this cause I always looked back and thought how silly that was but now I'm so mad I never told her cause I know she would have loved it. I truly hope she knows how beautiful I thought she was, inside and out and I know without a doubt she knew how much I loved her. I'm fortunate that I don't delete my text and I still have our messages to look back at. I miss her so much already <3

“ A memory with Shelbi.. Wow.... Where to start... I remember riding on the bus with her, Ms. Maggie Moorehead, our driver was also her grandmother, so of course we thought we could get away with anything... It was exchange gifts for Christmas Day for our classes, so my dad had spent like $20 on a Christmas Barbie and she had brought a mechanical dog of some kind.. We didn't want anyone in our class to have them cause we wanted to exchange with each other... So we stuffed both the gifts in her backpack and slid it all the way to the back of the bus so she could leave it and we could come back that afternoon and get them... Ms. Moorehead didn't let it ride... Lol! She brought Shelbi her backpack to class, Shelbi got picked up early that day so she got both the gifts... :) That's just one memory, there's many more... She was once upon a time, my best friend... She was a great friend... A great person... A wonderful mother... I'll miss her greatly, as well as I have for years but not quite as much as I do now... I never got to tell her "bye" I guess u could say. But she's always had a place with me, whether she knew it or not... I love u Shelbi... Always have... Always will.. Prayers for Bentley, her parents, her friends.. I'm here if u guys need anything.
