“ Cole was a friend to everyone. He made people smile and just brightened people's day. He was never a person to judge. He always had a smile on his face. Cole was a person you could rely on and tell anything to and not have to worry about other people knowing. I'm going to really miss talking to him but he is in a better place. Rest easy bud

“ I met Cole only once about five years ago when he came with his mother and grandparents to visit his great uncle. He left an impression on me that remains indelible--one of quiet inner peace, the kindest smile, and the utmost respect for those around him. Amy, this is a tribute to you as well. I wish you strength and courage as you continue to be that same guiding light with your daughters. -- Jill

“ Cole was such a bright, polite and sweet student. Just yesterday Cole was in my classroom completing his final project and needed help. I sat down beside him to show him what needed to be done. Afterwards, I talked with him and the other three students in my class about school, summer, etc. I remember his smile as he was walking out of my room...a bright light left this earth far too soon. Praying for his family and friends.

“ Cole was an exceptional young man. He was always polite and respectful. Cole and my sons hit it off the first time I took them over to Toby's house. After a few minutes all three of them were soaking wet, covered in mud, looking for something to catch in the creek. Cole even let us hunt out of his deer stand so my sons could get a deer.

“ Cole was one of the most well mannered and most thoughtful young man I have ever met. He meant so much to Macie and will be missed greatly. These pics were from Macie's birthday dinner party and when she got homecoming maid in 2014.
